

Walking Through the Plaka District

The narrow cobblestone streets of Plaka wind beneath the northern slope of the Acropolis, offering visitors a glimpse into traditional Greek life. Small tavernas serve moussaka and souvlaki while bouzouki music drifts from open doorways. This neighborhood has been continuously inhabited for over 3,000 years.

code1/pre1/##