Building a Strong Defense Case

A seasoned attorney will utilize various defense tactics:

- Challenging evidence against you.
- Arguing entrapment if applicable.
- Highlighting lack of intent or misunderstanding.

Common Defenses Against Prostitution Charges

Lack of Awareness

One common defense is claiming ignorance about the nature of an encounter—especially if an individual believes they were not engaging in prostitution but rather participating in consensual interactions.

Consent Issues

If consent cannot be established between parties involved, it could potentially weaken the prosecution's case.

Entrapment Claims

If law enforcement officers induce someone into committing an illegal act they wouldn't otherwise commit, this may constitute entrapment.
