Why Nutrition is Important During Pregnancy

During pregnancy, a woman's body undergoes many changes. The demand for nutrients like protein, calcium, iron, folic acid, and vitamins increases significantly. These nutrients are essential for the proper growth of the baby and maintaining the mother's health. A lack of proper nutrition can lead to fatigue, weakness, low immunity, and complications during pregnancy. Therefore, doctors often recommend nutritional supplements along with a balanced diet. Progrow Mom Chocolate Flavour by AffordPill helps fill these nutritional gaps effectively. It ensures that both mother and baby receive essential nutrients every day, making pregnancy smoother and healthier.
